

New Data in CERC DataFinder®

Current Year Estimates for 2005, Projections to 2010

DataFinder includes updates for all of the current year and projected data: the current year is now 2005, and projections are for 2010. Census data from 1970, 1980, 1990 and 2000 are also included in selected reports.

Existing reports that include charts also incorporate the newly released data. The chart seen here is from the report, "Demographic Snapshot Comparison Report with Charts."

The new current year and projected estimates are available for every geography selection in the database: from block group up to the nation.

Just to note, the CERC town data will be updated after the original sources have updates.

Mature Market Reports

Another recent addition to DataFinder is the Mature Market summary and comparison reports. These reports focus on geographies by age groups over 55, race by age, and gender by age.
